Dedication to

Bruce A. Barlow

The following eulogy was read at the memorial mass for Bruce Barlow at St. Mary's Church . . . Bruce Barlow, a friend who meant so much to so many people, a friend who meant so much to me. I would like to share some stories and memories with all of you about my friend Bruce. Stories and memories that will live with me forever.

Bruce grew up in Manasquan, New Jersey, a small resort town on the New Jersey shore. Like most young boys who grew up in New England rooting for the Red Sox, Bruce grew up rooting for those amazing Mets. His dream as a boy was to play third base for his Mets. Bruce loved all sports. He knew more facts and records than are now listed in the 1987 Sports Almanac.

Bruce went to Parochial School until high school, and of course, he shared with me Nun stories and jokes. I know that together with his parents, those nuns set the foundation for the type of person Bruce grew into, just as Bruce has set the foundation for many of his students here today. You, as parents, please be assured that your children were in good hands when around Bruce; and your students may you someday do what Bruce will not be here to do for another.

Bruce later went to the University of New England where his claim to fame was not graduating number one in his class as a Biology major, but by eating a gallon of ice cream in just under ten minutes, still a school record. Boy did we have some fun eating together.

I first met Bruce when I was a substitute teacher at the High School in 1980. I remember sitting in the teachers room one day, and in walks this young guy who immediately becomes the center of everyone's attention. There was something about him that made me like him immediately. He seemed to be so positive, up and enthusiastic. He had myself and everyone else laughing in minutes. The next day we were playing tennis together, and thus began six years of the fiercest battles on the tennis court you could imagine. When we played against each other it didn't really seem to matter who won or lost the match. What was important was to see who could hit the ball the hardest, serve the most aces, or make the most fantastic shot. He loved the challenge of doing the impossible and he really loved reminding me that the only person alive who could have returned the shot that just went by me was the person who hit it . . . Bruce.

Bruce was also very religious. He didn't talk much, but I know he was. He never missed a Sunday mass. Bruce loved music. He was quite the conversationist. Never at a loss for words. He often visited his parents and came back with stories about how his mother couldn't cook which was hard to believe. And stories of how he and his father caught 20 fish which was a slow day for them. He talked about his grandmother, and competing with his brother Brian in everything from basketball to whiffle ball. According to Bruce, he never lost to Brian.

He once told me about the time Brian passed a football deep to him and how he caught it one-handed while diving over the neighbor's hedges and landed in the mud. He never thought about getting hurt. All he cared about was catching that football in a spectacular way. Anyone can catch it with two hands. If you knew Bruce, I know you can picture him diving over the hedge for that ball and springing to his feet to try it again.

Bruce has a lot of friends here today, a few by first names and nicknames I would like to mention. To Charlie, Dick, Gary, Bergie, Danny, Kevin, Ralph, the Buckaroos, and Debbie Dooski — he thought about you a lot because he talked about all of you to me all the time. He also had good things to say about his fellow teachers. I know you all will miss him.

I'm going to miss him yelling out to me while I'm playing mixed doubles against him with my wife Debbie, "Where were you in '62?" after a ball goes whizzing by Debbie. Of course it was my fault we lost the point. I should have had it, not Debbie. Debbie of course smiles and agrees with Bruce.

I'm going to miss sitting in the pouring rain on a cold fall afternoon watching a football game at Fitton Field. Only Bruce would be crazy enough to go with me. I'm going to miss going to basketball games, watching games on T.V. with him and waking up at three o'clock in the morning to go fishing. I know that Mike, Steve, and his other fishing buddies will miss that too.

I'm going to miss Bruce coming to watch me play tennis. I can't believe he could sit through all those matches and just watch alongside my other fan, Debbie. Boy that meant a lot to me. What impressed me the most about Bruce was that he was a tremendous teacher and leader. He was President of the G.T.A., supervised the school newspaper, and the girls' varsity tennis coach. He loved his kids and talked about them often to me. I know that Lisa and Kara and the rest of his girls meant a lot to him. He was the type of guy who would do anything he could to help his girls as he did.

Bruce was the type of person to always chaperon Friday night dances, go away with the baseball team for a weekend at the Cape, help coach the girls' basketball team and pitch batting practice to the baseball team before an important game. He didn't receive any money for it and didn't expect or want a thank-you. He did it because you were all important to him. He wanted to see you succeed and to share with you the good times as well as the bad.

If you went to a basketball game on a Friday night, who was the only person over 18 sitting right in the middle of 100 screaming kids in the student section. Who took you on, one-on-one in the gym after school or took you fishing on the bridge at the Wachusett Reservoir, or kicked your butt on the tennis court. Boy could Bruce dress. I'm not exaggerating when I tell you he had a different tie for every day of the week and a different sport coat for every week of the year.

I'm going to miss my brother Bruce for some very selfish reasons. Probably because he made me feel so happy and I felt so good when he was around. As Lou Boutiette stated in a recent phone conversation, "Bruce was a very special person. He made you laugh when you needed to laugh."

I have no doubts as to where Bruce is right now. He's in heaven, probably chuckling over some of these memories and keeping watch over us in Manasquan and all of you in Grafton. I know that when it's my turn to go, he's going to be standing there behind St. Peter with a tennis racket in his hand waiting for the next encounter. I look forward to that day.

Before I end, I would like to mention that Bruce's parents and relatives thank you for all the love and support you have shown.

In closing, thank you Nell, Mike, Steve, and Chris for your support and help in the last few days. I couldn't have done it without you and Thank you Bruce for being my friend and leaving me with so many happy memories. Amen and God Bless you all for letting me share.

In Memory of Donald Corriveau

Throughout your journey in life, there are many hardships and times of troubles that you must face. There are people you know and care about, there are certain people you will in reality lose. On May 27, 1988, Grafton lost one person who many knew and loved; Donald Corriveau a wonderful person who touched the hearts of everyone. He was so alive and full of life; no matter what mood he was in, he could always bring that troublesome smirk upon his face. Donald always tried to help others when they were in trouble because he valued his friends, relatives, and as we all know, his life. He always had the talent of working with his hands, whether it was woodcarving, playing ice hockey, or even carrying the wood for his father, Arthur, into the house. His parents were originally from Canada, he was so proud to be a Frenchman; it made him feel dominant. Donald was 100% French and he definitely showed it through his stubbornness. Donald had great love for many things but a great amount of it was for his motorcycle. He always wanted to ride that bike no matter what people would say; he would do what he wanted and because of this his journey through life was ended abruptly. Although he went into a better world than we all know of, at least he was taken while he was enjoying his life to the fullest. Donald was the type of person who would always want to live today like you were going to die tomorrow. We all know that when our time comes he will be waiting with open arms and a smile to take us to our afterlife where we will be and where he is as free as a bird like dust in the wind on his way to heaven.

How Long?

Some of us have just been here too long. I wonder what it's like to be twenty years old and a freshman in a high school? There are no twenty-year-old students in Grafton, but there are some somewhere. Some of us have definitely been here too long!

You know you've been at G.H.S. too long when ...

When you stand up for the Pledge of Allegiance every time someone comes over the speaker.

Julie Cox '89

When you're older than your teachers.

Amy Corcoran '90

When you know all of the teachers' mothers' maiden names.

Comic Relief

Comedians. There are so many and each has a different style and audience. Some use vulgar language to be funny, others don't and are just as funny. But some of the Grafton High students had different ideas ...

Who is your favorite comedian and why?

Church Lady — she's special!

Dan Cournoyer '88

I am, when I am alone I think of the funniest things. It's unreal!

Holly McDonald '91

Mr. Lynch — he's funny.

Must Come Down

How would you like to feel the excitement of being in a three-ring circus? Then learn to juggle.

First, take two objects (tennis balls, bean bags, etc.). Toss the object in your right hand up in the air toward your left hand, then toss the object in your left hand toward your right hand but lower and before the first object reaches the tossed object. Focus your eyes at the peak of the higher tossed object. Practice this first movement until you can complete 20 to 30 repetitions with ease.

To juggle three objects, hold two in your right hand and the third in your left. Starting with the right hand, toss in the air about three feet the object which is touching the top of your thumb. Next, toss the object in the left hand toward the right, lower than the first object. Toss the remaining object. Remember, focus your eyes at the peak.

Although you may never be the center of attraction at Ringling Brothers, you will experience a sense of accomplishment after mastering the art of juggling.

What Goes Up

Cars are an important aspect of the High School experience and range from sporty and expensive to cheap and junky. Some people even like their "junk cars" and wouldn't trade them for anything. But, hey, if it runs and gets you where you're going, then who needs a Jaguar XJ12, Ferrari Testarossa, or a Lamborghini? Here are some more creative answers ...

What is your favorite car and why?

Porsche 930 turbo — it looks mean and it's fast.

Brian Prunier '88

1956 Chrysler Hearse — because it's big and all my friends fit in it.

Problem Solving

Problems, problems. Everyone's got them and everyone's got to face them at one time or another. But the problems of one can seem unimportant to someone else. Some people even have a problem with us — the yearbook staff. Imagine that.

What is the biggest problem facing teens today?

Zits. I hate zits.

Abi Kinloch '91

Too many surveys.

John Morley '89

Good Advice

So many people need advice for school or life itself, but some people get it in some pretty strange places. Many people get advice in any way they can.

Whom do you go to for advice and why?

Mr. Ed. I idolize him for his superior intellect and because he's a large-hoofed animal.

Erich Bohaboy '88

Santa Claus.

Mike Zajac '89

I usually go into the girls' bathroom and sit in a stall until someone comes in, then I explain my problem and ask the stranger for advice.

Gourmet Meals

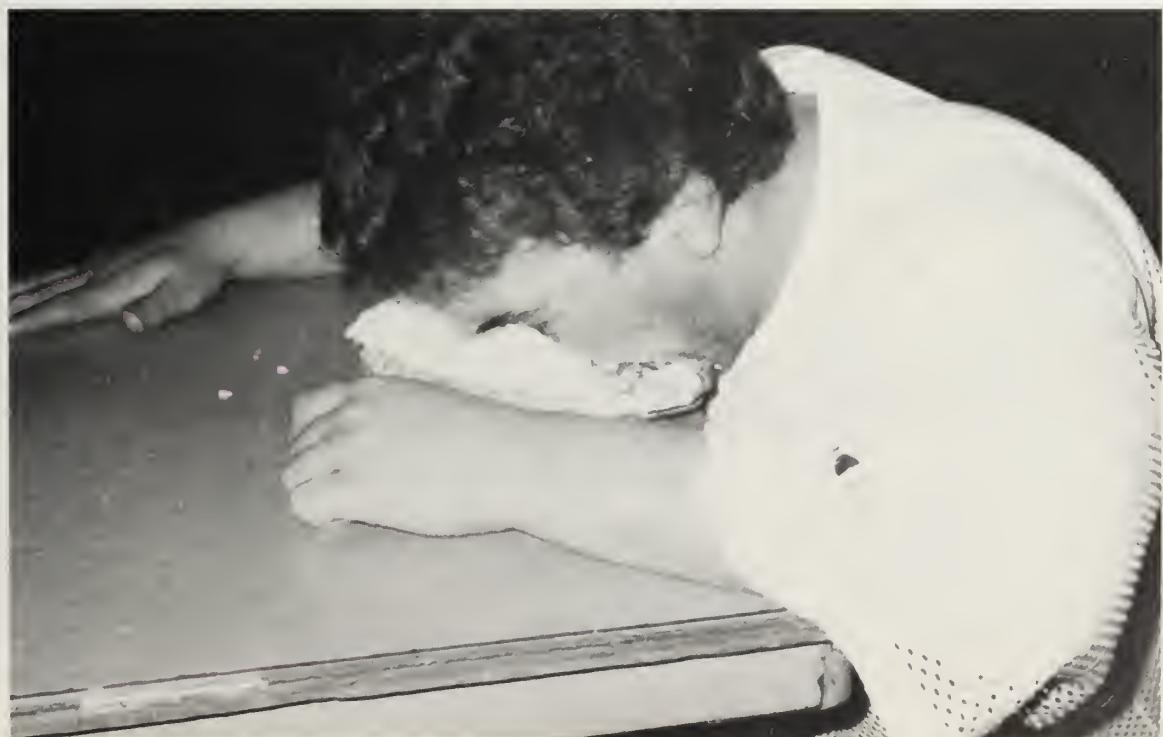

People always get hungry after sports events. Where do you go to feed your face? There are several local hangouts, all of which become packed after the games. Grafton High students certainly have added their share to the local businesses.

Where do you go to eat after high school activities?

Papa Gino's.
Andrea Gilligan '88

Friendly's.
Mark Haseltine '88

McDonald's.

Spirit

The Class of 1988

One thing Grafton High takes the most pride in is our spirit. That never-ending desire to show each other how much we appreciate their efforts and to let our opponents know how badly they are about to be beaten. It is not unusual to go to a sporting event and see Grafton posters, Indian "war paint" upon faces or the voices of the fans chanting an ever-popular cheer for their team. Each class seems to have its own cheering section, the largest being the senior section, of course. For four years, we have banded together to let other schools know that we are the best, if not on record, in enthusiasm. As we climb into the bleachers all differences are put aside; we are united in a common bond. Not many schools can claim the loyalty ours has enjoyed. Our efforts to promote our school or class as the best has been evident in our being awarded the "sportsmanship award" and winning first place in the pep-rallies since our freshman year, coming in second only once to the Class of '89. Our dedication can be measured in the miles so many hockey fans have traveled to see the Indians take the ice or in the gallons of water that have rained on hard core football fans (remember Millbury?). As we leave Grafton High not only will we leave an example for others to follow, but we will take with us a great sense of pride to share with others in our futures.

Below: Seniors post the class banner for Spring Fling.

Creating an "F"

Writing an "F" paper? It's as easy as 1,2,3,4,5 and 6. 1. Select a topic you know nothing about, as I have chosen this topic because, of course, I know nothing about it. You might choose to write a paper on the geography of Manono, Zaire.

2. Make sure you use as many run-on sentences as possible one of the first things taught in English is not to use run-on sentences teachers expect students never to use them especially deliberately.

3. Use inappropriate punctuation and incorrect formation? Try! not to use paragraphs, or periods.

or commas!
where? they belong.

This will; make the paper — even more incomprehensible.

4. Write as messy as you can. No one likes to spend a long time to try to read a messy, unimportant paper.

5. Trie two spel as incorrect as possible. Hi school students are accepted to now how two spel correctly, an teechures hate seeing spelling arrows.

6. Last, but not least, use many cliches. They are as old as the hills and are a dime a dozen. They make the writer look as dumb as a doornail and they cause the reader to sleep like a log.

Follow these steps and you will receive an "F." After all, you did work hard on it.

Mrs. Susan Teso

The class of 1988 would like to take this opportunity to thank a very special person, Mrs. Susan Teso. Rejected and discouraged, our Freshman class was finally adopted by Mrs. Teso, who was brave enough to accept the challenge of being our class advisor. Little did she know she would also accept the trials and tribulations of a group of individuals searching for unity. Stumbling into our Sophomore year we set high goals for the years to come. With high hopes and expectations our Junior year sparked the spirit by which we would soon be remembered. Mrs. Teso's enthusiasm for fundraising provoked the idea of the first Senior Fair. Guided by her patience and devotion the soon-to-be Seniors were brought together as a class to make this fundraiser, an original at G.H.S. As Seniors our spirit shone like never before. Never giving up, Mrs. Teso helped set a record high cheese and sausage sale. In addition to this, she also attracted the New England Patriots to come for a "friendly" game of basketball. This game boosted our treasury enough to rid us of the financial worries which had plagued us in the past. All Mrs. Teso's hard work finally paid off. Now she could watch a group of young adults move on to graduation as a class that she had helped to mature. For years of dedication, enthusiasm, support and originality, we thank you Mrs. Teso!

On the Overhead

Electron dot diagrams, Avagadro's Number and "teeny, tiny little particles". That's what was usually on the overhead. Ms. Sandoz always had her overhead somewhere nearby. After forty-five minutes of chemistry, those small desks that we constantly complained about became softer and softer and steadily more comfortable. Finally, when she told us that we wouldn't need chemistry for every profession we pursue, that was it. No more chemistry, no more periodic table of elements, no more bunsen burners, and no more overhead projector?

I Get It

As seventeen senior students stared at the chalkboard, Mr. Tite repeated, "It's basic math, I should never have passed you in Algebra I." Simple limits! right! Amazed, I looked up and realized that the entire board was filled with one problem.

After Mr. Tite finished the problem on the board, he walked the rows to collect the homework. When he reached my row, my hands were empty and no homework was passed in. He giggled under his breath and said, "What's three points off an average?"

Standing in front of the room, Mr. Tite stated his plan for the future. "I have decided on a 3-4-5 homework plan. Three points as a sophomore, four points as a junior and five as a senior." At least we can leave something to upcoming classes. A past history of poor homeworks!!

What Is It?

"Do you know what he's drawing? I sure don't. What does it have to do with this anyway?" I found myself saying this more than once in Mr. Kosnoski's biology classes. Mr. Kosnoski is one teacher who enjoys backing up his lectures with "visual aids." However, I would be the last one to insult his artistic ability, that might hurt his feelings. I wouldn't want to do that. In all seriousness, his charts and diagrams are supposed to help students better understand concepts. Most of the time they do, especially when he uses different colored chalk.

Personal and family living is a course in which students learn about themselves, their peers and what life has in store for them when they graduate from high school. The main event comes at the end of the school year. It is the weddings which take place and involve the students in each class.

There is a lot of planning and stress involved in preparing for these weddings. First of all, students must have money and lots of it. They also need flowers, tuxes, gowns, presents for the wedding party, and a place for the reception. It is also important to have good food, a good band, and a photographer.

Our mock weddings were as close to the real things as we could get them. We had three separate weddings, one for each class. The first class's wedding party was made up of Kara Nichols, the bride; Michele Cooper, her maid of honor; and Ann Leofanti and Bonnie Bonge, her bridesmaids. It also included Todd Nicholson, the groom; Rob Mathis, the best man; and Steven Richard and Ricky Lukasevicz, ushers.

The second wedding party was made up of Cheryl O'Toole, the bride; Kim Teso, the maid of honor; Karen Morris, Mary Melican and Deana Damato, Brides maids. It also included John Lukasevicz the groom; Tom Ludy, the best man; Bob Lavallee, Mark Rebidue and Andrew Nelson, ushers. Much planning and preparation went into all three weddings. Jan, from Jan's Bridals, spoke to all three classes and provided the wedding gowns free of charge. For this wedding, Robert L's donated the tuxes. Members of each class spent the morning decorating the auditorium. These were wooden arches with crepe paper flowers, streamers, and flowers down the side of the aisles. Each wedding was a tremendous success which ended with a reception enjoyed by all.

The third P & F wedding party was made up of Kelly Mahoney, the bride; Kathi Reed, her maid of honor; Shannon Pichette and Andrea Bellarosa her bridesmaids. It also included Donald Corriveau, the groom; Joe McDonough, best man; Gary Lipscomb and Larry Kenney as ushers.

For weeks students went over the responsibilities involved and prepared decorations, and made arrangements for tuxes, gowns, food and flowers. The tuxes for the wedding were provided by Mr. Tux of Worcester, free of charge. Flowers were provided by Herb's Florists. In class students went over vows and time schedules to make sure that everything would run smoothly. All decisions were made in class by the students. These weddings were a lot of fun for all students involved, but they were also a great deal of hard work. We would like to thank all who participated and helped make it successful.

Proud Speaker

This year, junior Amy Dowd represented zone 4 in the annual Lions Club essay/public speaking contest. The topic of this year's contest was "Complacency — A Danger of America." Altering the theme some, Amy spoke on "Complacency — A Disease of America." During her seven minute speech, she discussed the definition of complacency, using an analogy of the town of Grafton. Amy expressed her concerns about Grafton's rapid growth and change. She feels that complacency is a nationwide problem. In her speech, Amy is quoted saying, "Complacency cause a laziness, a satisfaction in the way things are, an unwillingness to work for change. This is the disease of America. When, in such a large and powerful nation, only a few are making the decisions for the whole, the balance of liberty is upset."

Scholars Accepted to Society Annual NHS Induction

On April 29 at 7:00 the NHS held its annual induction ceremony. The students inducted included Maria Mahassel, Beth Wyman, Scott Savageaux, and Chris Hopkins. Former NHS President Mark Haseltine directed the evening's events. This year's guest speaker was Jay Schadler from Channel 5 News. Mr. Schadler addressed the NHS with a moving speech on student responsibilities. Highlights of the evening included: speeches on character, service, leadership, and scholarship; induction of new members; and presentation of the stoles to the seniors. The gavel was passed on to Amy Dowd, next year's president. The evening concluded with coffee and refreshments in the cafeteria.

A Day of Fun First Annual Senior Fair

Clowns and facepainting, games and cotton candy — there was something for everyone at the first annual senior fair. Set up by the senior class to be a carnival — type setting, with different booths and games, the fair was a huge success. Each class, or anyone for that matter, could buy a booth. It was a day of fun, food, and frolic, complete with strolling clowns and a grill serving lunch. Once again the senior class has started a tradition at G.H.S.

Faculty Takes a Shot Patriots Visit G.H.S.

The Patriots? At Grafton High? This year the senior class, with help from their advisor Mrs. Teso, explored new ways of fundraising. The most profitable was the New England Patriots vs. Grafton. The Pats came to our gym and played basketball against four of our teams. The first $1500 in profit went to charity. The rest went to the class treasury. A good time was had by all—faculty and alumni, who were beaten, boys team, which was also beaten, and the girls' team, which beat the Patriots. At one point, even the crowd got into the game.

A Talent Showcase

Annual Variety Show

The variety show this year proved to be a night of entertainment and excitement. There were many singing, dancing, and comedy acts to bring laughter and smiles to the crowd. A few of the more memorable moments were: Mrs. Julian, Mrs. Reddings, Mrs. May, and Mrs. Largas acting like little children; an outstanding performance by the jazz band; an adorable lip sync by the Delta Girls (Ricky Lukasevicz, Steven Richards, and Kevin LaDuke) to Aretha Franklin's "Respect"; and an incredible rendition of the prize winning dance "Din Da Da." It was certainly a memorable night.

Prom 88

On Friday May 13 the 1988 Senior/Junior Prom was held at the Worcester Marriott. The evening began with dancing and an exceptional dinner provided by the Marriott. The Junior King was Jon Morley, the Junior Queen was Ann Klocek and her court consisted of Kim Ayres, Danielle Butke, and Nina Tauras. The Senior king was Brian Prunier, the Senior queen was Samantha Brady and her court included Kathi Reed, Jennifer Stines, and Christine Trainor. Fun, food, and frolic was enjoyed by all, thanks to the Prom Chairperson Rachel Remillard, and the Prom Committee.

The Sound of Music

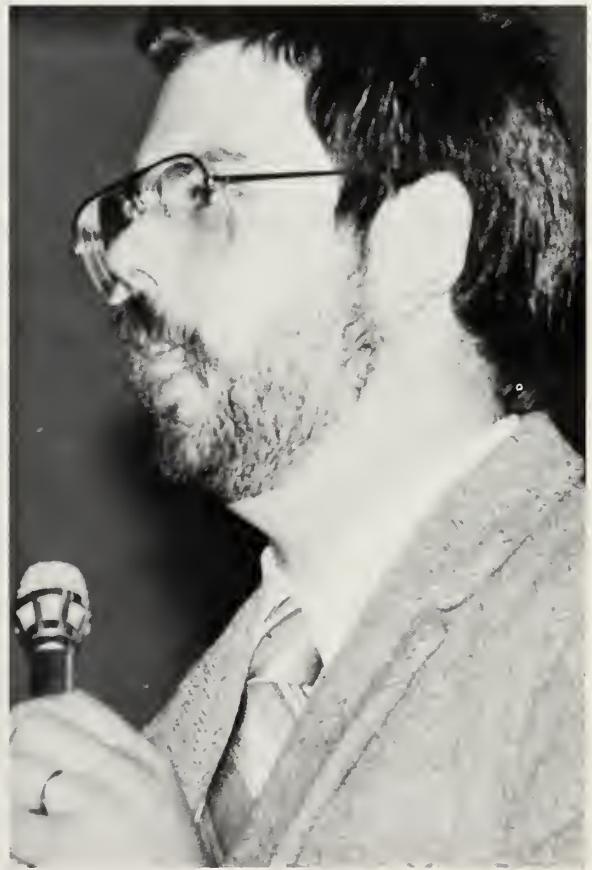

Cabaret Concert

On May 6, 1988, the Grafton High School concert band, chorus, and jazz band, along with the fourth grade band was led by Mr. Peter Gillies, dazzled the audience with their annual Cabaret concert. Both concert bands performed to the best of their abilities. The fourth grade band played a variety of emsembles, and all the children displayed great potential for their musical future. The high school concert band performed a number of pieces that were very enjoyable. The chorus and jazz band were also well received by the appreciative audience.

Spring Has Sprung

Spring Fling Returns

Spring fling is the week each class tries to show they have the most spirit after the long winter. This year, all four classes exhibited exceptional spirit. The freshmen, considering the fact that this was their first time in this type of contest, showed great spirit. The sophomores and juniors also came shining through, although no class could match the seniors in participation this week. The hall decorations also were won by the seniors with their "Senior Street." The class competitions ended the week. These consisted of the sack race, orange pass, three leg race, and of course, the pie eating contest. The week was won by the class of 1988.

Bring Home the Gold

Annual Awards Night

This year, the academic/athletic awards night was held on Wednesday May 25. This is the night that athletic and academic achievers gather to collect the various awards that they have earned over the past school year. The evening began with the annual speeches made by Mr. LeMay and Mr. Egsegian. The awards ceremony then began. The first year academic awards came first and then went through the sports awards, second, third and fourth academic awards. Each sport gave out their individual certificates, letters, plaques, and blankets. At the end of the regular awards, the major awards were given out. Many deserving athletes were awarded the seven letter awards, Navy/Scholar awards, the Emmett Ludy trophy, Hassannamisco trophy, Indian of the year, and District E Athletic Director awards. Everyone who received awards on this night has an achievement they can be proud of.

The Last Resort

Back to Frank Davis

On May 23, 1988, four days before graduation, the class of 1988 embarked on the annual class trip to the Frank Davis Resort in Connecticut. They enjoyed a day of swimming, tennis, horseback riding, and other outdoor activities. The staff there organized games between the different schools and Grafton took home many of the top awards. The majority of the students laid out and enjoyed the gorgeous sunny day. Later on, there were swimming races which many students participated in. The games later moved down to a field where relays and tug of wars took place. Grafton won both the girls and boys tug of war. After every contest was finished there was just one contest left, the dance contest. Unfortunately, the school failed to bring home any trophies for this one. The weary Grafton students then had to gather their belongings and board the bus, where we had to wait still for two missing students.

Making Memories

Class Night — Seniors Celebrate!

It's Thursday May 26th and we have gathered for class night. This time class night is different, because it is finally our turn. Our class celebrated one of its last nights together by enjoying a great meal catered by the Post Office Pub. Mr. Cormier, Karl Doane, and Andy Pierce presented us with a spectacular slide show. This slide show brought back some wonderful memories!

Each academic department gave out outstanding achievement awards for students' performances in each subject. Many different students won awards, but as Andy Nelson said, "It's the Mark and Rose show tonight." Each member of the class contributed to make this a night to remember for years to come.

A Final Look at The Class

Commencement Exercises '88

Graduation took place beginning at 6:00 p.m. on Friday May 27 in the Grafton High School gymnasium. Class President Kerri Malvey welcomed the assembled guests. Honor Speakers were Mary Noonan, Rose Andrejczyk and Mark Haseltine. Samantha Brady, Karl Doane and Andrea Gilligan sang "Like an Eagle."

A Record of 1-12-2, At Least They Had Fun

Fun and Games

The Field Hockey season ended with a loss to David Prouty. Although this year's record was 1-12-2, the girls had an enjoyable season. The one win was against West Boylston, which prevented the Lions from attending the district games. Due to Mrs. Cimoch's new baby and Mr. Flynn's coaching the soccer team, three new coaches were added to the team — Varsity coach Mrs. Lawler and Jayvee co-coaches Mrs. Cusson and Ms. Morin. The Varsity team was led by tri-captains Rose Andrejczyk, Kathleen Cleary and Andrea Gilligan. Senior players were Donna Girard, Kelly Reed, Ashley Heselton, Maureen Murphy, Mary Inman, and Rachel Remillard. Junior members included Gretchen Anderson, Jen Azar, Kristy Cusson, Missy Heseltine, Jen MacCallum, and Pam Fields. The sophomore members were Becky Budroe and Lisa Chiarenza. Even though the Varsity team only won one game, the girls played very hard and fought until the end. The high scorers on the team were Mary Inman, Kathleen Cleary and Rachel Remillard. Credit should also be given to Donna Girard for her superb goal tending.

The Jayvee team was led by tri-captains Debbie Eramo, Amy Dowd and Chrystal Sherritt. Junior members were Kelly McIntyre, Denise Patterson and Pam Wright. Sophomores included Jen Budreau, Cherie Boucher, Kelly Gronberg, and Corrina Mackoul. The new freshmen were Christina Demers, Kelly Keenan, Martha Mitchell, and Karen Sczcur. Their overall record was 1-9-1, with their only win against Northbridge. The high scorers were Chrystal Sherritt and Cherie Boucher. The team had a very developmental season. Undoubtedly, they show great promise for next year's season and beyond.

Definite Improvements Getting Better

This year's girls cross country team had an interesting season, although they didn't win a whole heck of a lot of meets. The team consisted of senior Mary Noonan; sophomores Tina Carlson, Amy Corcoran, Amy Smith, Kathy Brady, Katie Wahlgren, Jen Cochran, and Mary Auger; and freshman Christina Paquette. This was the largest team Grafton has had in quite a while and they were led by the coaching abilities of Richard Coleman and Donnie Wilson. All of the girls put in a great effort whether running hard in the cold autumn air on the day of a meet or putting in an early Saturday morning practice of hill work. All the girls had an enjoyable and productive season and Mary had an outstanding performance at the S.W.C.L. meet, coming in fifth.

Losses Affect the Season

Ups and Downs

The boys cross country team had a fair season this year. The final record was five wins to seven losses. Their season ended with a loss to first ranked David Prouty.

Many changes have affected this season. Leicester had no boys or girls team for the first time in many years. Uxbridge and Prouty, who have been close to last in previous years, came back to dominate this season. Oxford radically changed its hilly course this season. Their new course is highly controversial. Many coaches refuse to run it again.

The team this year consisted of seniors Mark Haseltine, Mark

Carlson, Jeff McCann, and David Vancelette; junior Chris Dunster; and freshmen Mic Foley and Tim Schreyack. The loss of so many seniors last year hurt the team badly, but they made the best of it. A special thanks to coaches Richard Coleman and Donnie Wilson.

At the S.W.C.L. meet, which was held on November 3, the boys gave a great showing. Mark Haseltine took eighth place. Dave Vancelette took ninth. Junior Chris Dunster followed closely behind at tenth. The rest of the team finished under thirty. The team holds great promise for the future.

Exploring New Horizons

Grafton High Soccer

In 1987 soccer was finally instituted at Grafton High at the junior varsity level. The season began slowly with only four players attending the first practice. We were told by our coach not to be discouraged by this and to keep the faith. As the season went on, the team worked hard and more players joined the squad. Some of the players who joined the team didn't fully understand the game; at the end of the season we had a confident team thanks to the fine coaching of Mike Flynn. Our short season culminated when we tied a tough and experienced Millbury team. The game ended in a tie, but it was a moral victory for our young team.

Great New Prospects Future Greatness

The 1987 football season began with a 15-0 victory over the Millbury Woolies on a rainy Friday night. The only other win the Indians achieved this season was against the Oxford football team. Richard Egsegean, John Caputo and James Bergenholz coached the Varsity team this year. The tri-captains were fullback Dan Fleming, tackle Jim Garabedian and quarterback Dave Jolie. The key offensive players of the team were Dan Fleming, Dave Jolie and John Martin who made most of the team's touchdowns. The final record was 2 wins to 8 losses. Although this may seem like a bad record, the football team had to deal with the loss of many key senior players. The coaches staff and captains managed to pull a team together with the remaining players. There is no doubt that this fledgling team will be a force to contend with in the coming seasons.

The Jayvee football team had a very good season with a final record of 7 wins to 5 losses. Coaching them were two former Grafton High football players, Steve Wojnar and Mike Ross. Some of the key offensive players were Joey Maynard, Tom Standring and Dave Scichilone. The fine performance of the Jayvee team shows the ability of upcoming freshmen and sophomores. Without question, this advantage will be used to its full potential in forming a new winning team for Grafton High.

Cheerleaders Work Hard Keeping Busy

The 1987 Football season was a busy one for the Cheerleading squad. The members were senior tri-captains Missy Gagne, Kara Nichols, and Kathy Reed; juniors included Kim Ayres, Amy Benson, Angela Jones, Jessica Jordan, Maureen Jordan, and Nina Taurus; sophomore Tammy Zeigler; and freshman Stacey Greenlaw and Denise Jones. They were advised by Marguerite Houde. The girls put much time and effort into creating a posters for the weekly football games and into creating a dance for the pep rally.

The 1987-1988 basketball cheerleading season lasted a long four months beginning in December. The squad consisted of many new members including senior Christy Raymond, junior Gretchen Anderson, sophomores Tammy Zeigler and Danielle Dame, and freshman Wendy Butkus, Dee Dee Dano, and Candy Martin. The girls were coached by Marguerite Houde and lead by captain Missy Gagne. The cheerleaders worked together to create cheers including a new hello cheer and a tournament cheer, which made an exciting year.

New Coaches Help Team Shoot the Hoop

The 1988 Varsity Basketball team enjoyed a successful season this year behind the leadership of Mr. Bergenholtz. This was his first year as varsity coach and he proved that he could produce a winning team. The team's record was 12 and 7 overall and at one point they won ten out of eleven games. Although, they didn't qualify for the Clark Tournament they did participate in the district tournament, where no Grafton team has won a game in nearly ten years. However, this year was different, the team defeated their first opponent, Groton Dunstable, in an exciting game. Their tournament play ended abruptly when they suffered a loss in the next game to Bartlett. Their worthwhile season for everyone involved. the Jayvee also, had an excellent season with Tom D'urso as their new coach. He lead his team to many promising victories. This year's Jayvee team shows great potential for the years to come.

Girls Need More Baskets

Troubled Scorers

From the moment we stepped onto the court as freshmen we learned that certain things were taboo. Mr. Nelson, our coach, led us from day one; painstakingly teaching the proper way to shoot, pass and dribble. We progressed from freshmen with little skill. Although the last time we qualified for districts was back in the 1984-1985 season, we were a team that never gave up. The only problem is, we can't score. This past wasn't a winning one, but it was enjoyable. Team members can always remember a funfilled season.

The members of the 1987-1988 girls basketball team was senior co-captains Rose Andrejczyk and Kathleen Cleary, also Donna Girard, Katie Farrar, Maureen Murphy, Rachel Remillard and Kelly Reed. No Pain, No Gain

Face Off

Although the 1987-88 ice hockey team caused many injuries, they experienced a few themselves. First to be injured was senior Steven "Loopa" Richards with a dislocated shoulder. Others to join him on the injured list included seniors David Przygoda and Tom Ludy. Although at times there were fewer than two complete lines of players due to injuries, the team continued winning with the losses only spattered among them.

The seniors of this year's team included Tom Ludy, Michael Roseen, Donald Corriveau, David Przygoda, Steven Richards, Gary Lipscomb, T.J. Casale, and co-captains Ken Novick and Todd Nicholson. Of these seniors Ken, Gary, and Steven, along with junior Dennis Hardiman, led the team in goals scored. Todd Nicholson and Tony DiDonna along with other defensemen successfully protected goalies T.J. Casale and Scott Savageaux.

This year's team proved to their loyal and rowdy fans that they were one of the best teams around.

Two-Handed Winners Wimbledon Next Stop?

This year's girls tennis team showed much improvement over last year's performance, as one must consider all the girls got better the more they played. Despite the loss of many seniors to graduation, most in the top positions, as well as having to adjust to their new coach, Mr. Kaufman, the girls proved they could put their instructor's advice to work at play.

Their only senior, Mary Noonan, was followed by juniors Colleen Flynn, Pam Fields, Tracy Frederico, Pam Williston, Priscilla Schroder, and Michele Robbins. Sophomores were Kathy Brady, Beth Frederico, Tina Carlson, Nicole Polselli, Katie Wahlgren, Jen Cochran, and Jen Boudreau. Finally, those newest to the team were Carrie Waite, Julie Joncas, Jen Goguen, and Brooke MacDonald.

Boys' Tennis

The Boys' Tennis Team once again had a successful season. We finished up the year with 8 wins and 4 losses. This was due to the unending wisdom of Coach Gareau and the drafting of South High's first seeded player to the team. Kevin LaDuke, our fearless captain, along with Keith Kinch were the backbone of the team with a perfect record. Kirk Menanson, our best player, was also dependable for a win. Michael Fields, our second ranked player, along with Jay Conte, Dave Przygoda, and Garry Lowe made up our senior roster.

Next year the team can look forward to another successful season. With help coming from the underclassmen of the squad, the team is sure to be tough to beat.

New Faces

Girls' Track and Field

The Girls' track team started the season at a very slow pace this year. However, with the guidance of two new coaches, Jim Pignataro and Jim Mulcahy, the team proved their strength by pulling together and showing strong dedication. The first week of training overwhelmed many as they were conditioned through rigorous calisthenics. As the girls whined, moaned and sweated through workout after workout, one thing kept them going — the goal to achieve their personal best. Even though coaches Pignataro and Mulcahy remained unsung heroes, the track team knew that these were the best track coaches Grafton has had for awhile. Despite a losing season, the positive attitude of this close-knit team shone through.

As tradition has come to be, this year's boys' track team finished their season undefeated and first in the league. Led by co-captains Jeff McCann and Jim Garabedian, they enjoyed a successful season that was well earned. Unending hours of running in chilling rain or the beating sun under the careful eyes of coaches Mike Flynn and Tom D'Urso paid off as the boys fought their way to the top. Senior team members Mike Clark, Mark Haseltine, John Martin, and Dave Vancelette, displayed an excellent example to their fellow team members, and showed their dedication by sacrificing the class trip for the postponed SWCL meet.

Swing Shift Girls' Softball

This year's softball started off rather shakily. With our first few wins under our belt, we set off into a pattern of wins and losses. There was a question as to whether or not we would even qualify for districts, but three wins in three clutch games let us continue our season. Unfortunately, we lost our first game to a strong St. Bernard's of Fitchburg. The team members were seniors Rose Andrejczyk, Kathleen Cleary, Maureen Murphy, and Kelly Reed. Juniors were Dona Wellman, Kelly McIntyre, and Andrea Wright. The underclassmen members were sophomores Lisa Chiarenza and Mary Auger and freshmen Stacy Greenlaw and Kelly Keenan. Thanks for a memorable and exciting season.

Another successful season

GHS Baseball

Working towards a spot in the district playoffs, Mr. Coleman put together a tough defensive team. With senior members John Dunne and Andy Nelson on the mound, the team was sure to earn a seed.

Gathering his share of fly balls, Dan Cournoyer starred in left field. Before moving to the catching position, Ken Novick worked a defensive team with Mark Rebidue in the infield.

With this fine mix of seniors, Mr. Coleman fought his way to the districts. Although the baseball team suffered a difficult loss to Hudson Catholic in the first round, they played tough and made Grafton High proud.

Editor's Note

WHO'S CRAZY?????

When did we decide to do this? Decide to work all year, stay up late, and spend countless evenings in moldy basements with typewriters in front of us? Why would someone want to do this? For some of us there was no choice, and for those fortunate or unfortunate to be our friends and acquaintances, the yearbook touched their lives also. The task is huge — to put together one hundred thirty-two pages of pictures, captions, and stories. The entire project takes a year to complete, and at the end of that year you learn to hate every aspect of a yearbook. Still, the staff works on. Through hardships like most deadlines or working on that last divider rather than studying for your English mid-term, all of the time knowing you will be proud of what you finish.

Of course a yearbook just doesn't materialize. The work is complicated, and not everyone knows what to do. That's why the 1988 staff looked to a seminar put on by our publishers, Hunter Publishing Company.

The backbone of our staff assembled at Westfield State College for four days of instruction about the production and marketing of a great yearbook. We also made contact with our yearbook representative Arnie Lohmann who for the next year would be our liaison with Hunter. Arnie helped us choose our cover and work our theme into our book. "The Spirit of the Indian, Catch it . . . If You Can" is our theme, and with Arnie's help you will see the theme throughout the publication. Our experiences at Westfield proved informative, and more than prepared us for the work ahead. We left Westfield with great ideas No White Space! Captions For Pictures! and most importantly Plan Your Time Wisely!

How were we to know the future? The color section was due in November, and where was the staff the night before the deadline? At Chris Trainor's house until one in the morning, but we finished. We went into our second deadline, early in February, vowing never to pull another allnighter, but to no avail. Mrs. Haseltine and her newest daughter "Becky Bear" put up with our antics for two weeks of these suicide missions. And this would continue into June. Yes, we had graduated from high school, but not from the yearbook.

Maybe we weren't the most punctual staff, but we worked hard, and we have produced what we feel is the finest yearbook Grafton High has ever seen.

The Staff: Co-Editors Karl Doane and Mark Haseltine; Michael Fields (photography), Andrea Gilligan, Jeff McCann, Chris Trainor, Maureen Murphy, Missy Gagne, Mary Inman, Andy Pierce, Cindy Endriga. We'd like to extend a special thank-you to Mike Roseen, Channon Pichette, Cindy Clearwater, Tom Doane, Brian White, and Donna Girard. Significant Contributions — Mr. and Mrs. Trainor, Mrs. Haseltine, Mr. and Mrs. Doane, Gretchen Anderson, Valerie Sneade, Lisa Chiarenza and Todd Nicholson. Photos also by Larry Kenney and Jen Holmes. Advisor: Mrs. Julian; she bought the junk food.
